26 Youngsters Entered City's Spelldown Awaited Friday

Survivors of elimination contests in their schools, 26 spellers will give their word lists a final study tonight in preparation for the citywide spelling bee Friday night at Westgate School auditorium.

The event will get under way at 7:30 with the representatives of the 13 elementary buildings battling to succeed Gary Barringer, the 1963 city champion who went on to win first place in the regional spelldown and finish third in the national finals. The public is invited.

THE LAST eight remaining in tomorrow night's competition will advance to the countywide finals March 20 at Lisbon for both public and parochial school systems.

Clarence G. Means, principal of East Junior High School, again will serve as the pronouncer. The judges will be James Locke, Mrs. R. W. Carter and Mrs. William Hocking.

The teachers' committee in charge of bee arrangements is headed by Mrs. Virginia Futhy of Taft, who requested the spellers to report to the band room at Westgate not later than 7 p. m., where the spellers will draw for places and last-minute questions will be answered.

OTHER COMMITTEE members are Mrs. Kathleen Kelly and Mrs. Rosalie Spencer of Garfield, Tony LaNeve of Me-

Kinley and John Yedgenak of Westgate.

School Supt. Paul H. Blair will preside and present "Certificates of Merit" which are awarded each year to the finalists through the co-operation of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The spellers who will compete: Malcolm Ogilvie and Deborah Banfield, Westgate Junior High; Vicky Dawson and Keith Everson, Klondyke; Deborah Icenhower and Donna Scratchfield, Neville; Anita Zehnder and Kay Compa, Lincoln.

Margaret M. Porter and William C. Sturgeon, Taft; Alexandra Cycyn and Mary Margaret Rhodes, East Junior High; Michael Rolley and Robert Smith, McKinley; Melody Taylor and Sharon Knott, Pleasant Heights.

MICHELLE Short and Pamela Grimm, Garfield; James Burgess and Kathryn Kidder, Horace Mann; Annetta Griffin and Curt Gitschler, Westgate elementary; Jo Anne Stepanovich and Delavean Adkins, Glenmoor, and Chris Ward and Pam Meredith, LaCroft.

Miss Banfield, Miss Dawson, Ogilvie and Rolley are veterans of previous citywide competition. Rolley was runnerup to Barringer last year and Miss Banfield finished third with both continuing to the county competition.

4 Women, 8 Men Picked

'Human Relations Board' Members Named By Hall

Four women and eight men were appointed today by Mayor Merrill D. Hall to serve on a 12-member Community Relations Board established by Council in legislation approved Dec. 9.

The objectives of the so-called "human relations board," according to the ordinance, will be "to study the problems of the various races, colors, creeds and nationalities living within the community and to eliminate discrimination in employment for the welfare and good order of the city."

The mayor said in naming the members he sought to achieve as nearly as possible a cross-section of the community. There are representatives of both major political parties; all three major faiths; the NAACP; labor; business; recreation and women's organizations, he explained. There are three representatives from each of the four wards.

The members are: Alonzo Spencer, 1233 Pennsylvania Ave.; Mrs. Lawrence Applegate, 1119 St. George St.; George Hargraves, 1023 Pennsylvania Ave.; Mike Turk, 326 Thompson Ave.; the Rev. Albert Rodenhause, 1034 Bradshaw Ave.; Richard Emmerling, 412 Thompson Ave.; James Moss, 1009 St. Clair Ave.; Carl Werner, 1400 Smithfield St.; Mrs. Helen Beck, 2233 St. Clair Ave.; Mrs. Edna Jones, 1997 Lisbon St.; Mrs. Harold Allison of Sanford Ave. and James Locke, 1512 Wyoming Ave.

The mayor said no date has been set for the first meeting. Each member will be furnished a copy of the ordinance establishing the commission to allow them to familiarize themselves with the objectives, he said.

The ordinance was approved by the 1962-63 Council on Dec. 9 and signed into law the following day by former Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

The mayor will be permanent

Pay Increase To Congress Gets Support

House Leaders Give Strong Backing To Boost Of $10,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strong support from House leaders has greatly improved chances for passage of a federal pay increase bill that includes big boosts for members of Congress.

Before a final vote comes today, however, a move may be made to trim from $10,000-a-year to $7,500 the increases that would go to members of Congress and other high-paid government officials. A total of 1.7 million federal employees would benefit under the bill, with the average mailman and government secretary getting a $450-a-year raise.

The House spent Wednesday debating the issue of whether it deserved an increase after going nine years without one, and heard a resounding "yes" from Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma and assistant Democratic leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana.

It also heard some equally rousing "no's" and demands that the House stand up and be counted on a roll call vote instead of trying to pass the bill by a nonrecord voice vote.

The members, who needed no such reminders, were told repeatedly by the bill's supporters that they faced "a hard and disagreeable task" in voting to raise their own $22,500-a-year salaries.

Albert told them the duty to set federal salaries was put upon them by the Constitution and could not be evaded. Holding down congressional pay, Albert said, would depress all salaries, since they are fixed by tradition in rigid relationships.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., a chief sponsor of the bill, told his colleagues "we are important people." He said he is tired of having Congress downgrade itself and praised the bill as "the first effort in history to bring order into the federal salary scale."

Many Republicans, however, said Congress could not in good conscience vote itself a big increase just after cutting taxes and urging frugality in government spending.

But a Democrat, Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio, said he planned to offer an amendment that will permit members of Congress who oppose the congressional pay boost to refuse to accept it. "Or, if they don't think they are worth it, they can waive the whole salary," he added.

Living Costs Rise

ROME (AP)—The cost of living in Italy rose another one per cent during January, bringing the total rise for the 12 months since January, 1963, to 7.6 per cent.

Decline Accelerates Evacuees Of Flood Await 'Mop-up' As River Stage Falls

Ohio Starts Cleanup As Flood Ebbs

15,000 In State, 22 Counties Felt High-Water Impact

By The Associated Press

The Ohio River appears to have ended its violent March assault on Ohio towns and communities, and residents were beginning giant-sized cleanup operations. Other flooding rivers in Ohio have already crested and were beginning to recede.

The Red Cross said 15,000 Ohioans in 22 counties were directly affected by the muddy, rampaging Ohio and its tributaries.

The Ohio at Cincinnati should crest at 66½ feet this morning, 14½ feet above flood stage, the Weather Bureau said. That would put the river at the fourth highest stage in recent history and the highest since 1945.

The Red Cross was to open a disaster headquarters at Cincinnati today for flood victims in five states—Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The flood affected 5,000 persons in the five counties around Cincinnati, and the Red Cross said Wednesday night that 755 persons still were living in six shelters, 120 fewer than Tuesday.

Also, the Red Cross announced it would set up four rehabilitation centers in the greater Cincinnati area today.

There were some scattered showers Wednesday night and more were forecast for today, but the Weather Bureau said "it won't be enough to affect the river."

Windows Cut In $150 Theft

Intruder Gets Cash At Service Station

An intruder cut small, neat holes in two windows to gain entry to an E. 3rd St. service station Wednesday night or early today, taking $150 in currency, police reported.

The entry was reported at the Humble Service Station, 227 E. 3rd St., operated by Mark E. Hetrick. It was timed sometime between 11:30 last night and 6:55 this morning.

The intruder cut a small hole in a window leading into the lubrication bay, then reached through the opening to manipulate the lock, police said. A locked door leading from the lubrication bay into the office was opened in the same manner, police said.

The burglar went directly to the money's hiding place and removed it, officers said. The cash was in a money bag with the imprint of the First National Bank. The burglary was reported to police at 6:55. Patrolmen H. W. Bosworth and O. C. Smith investigated. They said three radios in the office were not disturbed.

Meanwhile, Sanders Firestone of Manor Ln. told police a thief took the battery out of his 1963 model car sometime between 7:30 and 11:15 p. m. Wednesday while it was parked on a lot at the rear of Sandy's Tavern on St. Clair Ave.

THAT'S FOR SURE. You might park a rowboat but not a car on the steep road leading to the Broadway Wharf, which is coming into view again as the flooded Ohio River recedes after cresting here at 42 feet. The wharf was covered probably by 15 feet of water when this view was taken shortly after the crest was reached Wednesday.

Fined $10,000

Hoffa Sentenced To 8-Year Term

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James Hoffa was sentenced today to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 on a charge of trying to fix a federal court jury.

He could have received a maximum of 10 years in prison. The $10,000 fine was the maximum under the law.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson, who heard the long trial which resulted in Hoffa's conviction, imposed the sentence which could eventually mean loss of Hoffa's job as head of the world's largest labor union.

"If Jimmy Hoffa goes to jail, something will have to be done" about the union presidency, Charles Bell, president of the Washington Joint Conference of Teamsters, said Wednesday. When newsmen asked if this means Hoffa could not run the 1.7-million-member union from jail, Bell replied, "I know damn well he can't."

Hoffa and three others were convicted March 4 of trying to fix the jury which couldn't agree on a verdict in Hoffa's 1962 federal trial at Nashville on a conspiracy charge. The conviction was Hoffa's first in four federal trials.

Convicted with him were Ewing King, former Nashville Teamsters president; Larry Campbell, Detroit Teamsters business agent; and Campbell's uncle, Thomas Parks, a Nashville handyman.

All are seeking new trials and, failing that, have announced they will appeal.

Among grounds cited in motions for the new trial were allegations that U.S. marshals plied the jury with liquor, along with affidavits from several employees of the hotel where the jurors were locked up each night during the seven-week trial.

"I am flabbergasted," said Hal Bullen, foreman of the jury, when he heard the charge. "We were most circumspect, because we realized the importance of our assignment."

Ruby's Fate Due In Jury's Hands Friday

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Attorneys for both sides say they expect to put Jack Ruby's fate in the hands of the jury Friday—the 13th.

The lawyers agreed that testimony will be completed today. Ruby has not taken the witness stand. There are no indications that he will.

As the end of the trial neared, Ruby appeared much the same as he has from the beginning. At times, he looks worried; at other times, his face is a mask. In the last few days, his lawyers have been talking more frequently with him, putting an arm around his shoulders, patting his hand.

Ruby is charged with murder with malice in the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy. The state demands that Ruby be sentenced to die in the electric chair. His defense is temporary insanity.

Because of this plea, his lawyers must prove that he did not know right from wrong nor the nature and quality of his act when he killed Oswald.

Over 600 To Start Cleanup Of Homes In Tri-State Area

Friday the 13th will not be an unlucky day for an estimated 600 residents of the Tri-State area — most of them evacuees from the Ohio River flood.

They will be well into "Operation Mop-up" tomorrow at homes they abandoned when the stream crested Wednesday at the highest stages in a decade.

Lockmaster Charles Boughner at Montgomery Dam at Ohio View said the stream was falling about five-tenths of a foot hourly this morning then steadied at three tenths. He had 31.5 feet at 11 a. m., which was 9.6 under his crest. The drop this morning since 7 was 2.3 feet.

East Liverpool had a crest of 42 feet yesterday morning and the dam chalked up 40.9. Downstream communities had higher stages. The last comparable flood was the 42.5 of October 1954.

Encouraging was the report that the Monongahela River was falling fast and that Pittsburgh's stage was 25.1, a decline of 6.5 feet.

Most roads that had been blocked by the highest water since 1954 were reopened today, and householders were due to start the trek back this afternoon to about 225 soggy and muddy homes in Empire, Stratton, New Cumberland, Congo and other low-lying areas.

It was estimated that families in about 140 homes had to be evacuated while those in 80 or more got out of their own accord, stacking furniture or moving it to second floors.

A light snow of up to 2 inches created a white blanket over the Ohio Valley scene this morning and hampered the return of the "flood fugitives," but milder temperatures are forecast for tomorrow to help in drying out the damp dwellings. And sunny skies are promised.

Mayor Wendell Reese of Empire announced this morning he is going to call Gov. James Rhodes, asking that the little river community be declared a disaster area. Eighty families were evacuated from their flooded homes Tuesday night.

Although the water has receded, it still covers the streets in most places, he commented. He said he hopes to get back into the mayor's office at Village Hall sometime today. Mayor Reese moved his flood headquarters to an office in the Union Clay Co. when the Village Hall flooded.

It will depend on whether or not gas can be obtained for heat, he said.

Some homeowners started sweeping out the mud this morning, surveying the damage. It is unlikely that any of the families will move back in until tomorrow, the mayor said, pointing out there is no heat in the homes and the water still covers the streets.

Some streets are clearing of mud as the water goes down. There still was 5 feet of water across Route 7.

The Jefferson County Red Cross has indicated it will visit

U.S. Denies Three Fliers Were Spying

Trio Shot Down Over Red Germany Reported Alive

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Three American fliers shot down over Communist East Germany are reported alive. The United States is trying to get them back and denies a Soviet charge that they were spying.

A nurse at a hospital in Gardelegen, East Germany, said the three officers aboard the jet bomber—which the Soviet Union admitted shooting down—survived and one was brought to the hospital Tuesday night.

"He wasn't hurt much," she said by telephone Wednesday. "He joined his other comrades."

The nurse declined to say who took the pilot away. She said she did not know his name.

The three Americans are Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit.

The United States and the Soviet Union exchanged formal protests over the incident in which the RB66B reconnaissance bomber was shot down 30 miles inside East Germany Tuesday. The crewmen parachuted.

A Soviet note handed to U.S. Charge D'Affaires Walter G. Stoessel in Moscow charged that the American plane was on a spying mission. The note admitted a Soviet fighter brought it down and warned that any other North American Treaty Organization planes penetrating Communist air space also would be attacked.

The Soviets rebuffed efforts of U.S. diplomats to learn the fate of the three fliers and made no immediate reply to a U.S. request that the crewmen and the wreckage of the plane be returned.

U.S. officials denied the spy charge and insisted the plane was on a routine training flight from orders to stay away from the Iron Curtain frontier. The United States coupled an apology with the protest.

The Soviet note claimed that "special reconnaissance equipment for aerial photography and radioelectrical reconnaissance" was found in the wreckage of the twin-engine, high-altitude bomber.

Monarchs, Dignitaries Attend King Paul Rites

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece was borne to his grave today, attended by six of Europe's seven reigning monarchs and other dignitaries from around the world.

The dead king's son and successor, King Constantine, 23, walked with his weeping mother, Queen Frederika, and his sisters, Crown Princess Irene and Princess Sophie, behind the flag-draped coffin on a caisson pulled by Greek navy sailors.

The foreign mourners were led by King Baudouin of Belgium, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, King Frederik of Denmark, King Gustav of Sweden, and King Olaf of Norway. Only Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, who gave birth to her fourth child on Tuesday was absent. Her husband, Prince Philip, represented her.

Nearly 800,000 Greeks lined the mile and a half route of the cortege through downtown Athens.

Former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were there for the United States. Walking with them were 18 princes, 8 princesses, 7 dukes, 2 duchesses, 2 presidents — and envoys from Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union, Communist countries where royalty is considered a political curse.

In the line of march were former kings whose thrones no longer exist—Umberto of Italy, Michael of Romania and Simeon of Bulgaria.

King Paul died last Friday at Tatoi Palace, 16 miles north of Athens, of uremia following stomach surgery. He was 62 and had reigned 17 years.

'64 CHEVROLET—THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMER

Chevrolet Impala Convertible

Nothing feels steep in a Chevrolet Impala (including the price!)

A hill is just something to admire the view from when you're driving a '64 Chevrolet. With engines up to a 425-hp V8*, getting from one side to the other wouldn't be much easier if somebody had put a tunnel there.

And if Chevrolet can go over a whole mountain so you hardly feel it, you can imagine how it goes over plain old bumps. Jet-smooth, of course. We put a big coil spring at all four wheels (not to mention 700 or so sound and shock absorbers throughout the body and chassis) to soak them up as fast as they come.

As you'd expect, Chevrolet turns in its usual fine performance with everything inside that big beautiful Body by Fisher, too. All kinds of stretch-out room and wide thick-cushioned seats that let you get in a full day's driving without fatigue. Yards of deep-twist carpeting and elegant fabric and vinyl upholstery that make you feel good just being there.

With all its looks and luxury, you can see how anyone might get the idea that this great highway performer is a high-priced car. Unless, of course, they happened to look first at its reasonable Chevrolet price.

And your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to show you that, wherever you drive, the price is probably what you'll feel least of all.

Regional Planners Start Work

The gears begin to mesh tonight on regional planning machinery in Columbiana County.

Six large committees will meet with members of the Regional Planning Commission at Lisbon to learn their tasks and map out arrangements for an overall study of the county.

These committees of volunteer workers will compile and analyze facts about land use, parks and recreational areas, industry, trade, labor, water supplies, sewage disposal, health factors, population, local government, education, housing, social institutions, transportation, utilities, financing and many other aspects of the county and its communities.

THESE STUDIES, when completed, will provide the factual basis on which planning can be launched.

What are the objectives of regional planning?

They include an orderly rather than a haphazard development of rural and urban areas, providing a means by which citizens can work together in solving joint problems, protection of resources, aiding communities in general development, saving money by preventing costly mistakes of unplanned development.

It is important to mark the cooperation of the county government, townships and East Liverpool and Columbiana in this regional program, and the interest of other communities in it.

It is also important to note that the regional program is voluntary, and its ultimate actions will be recommendations — it will not have the power to make regulations or enforce decisions.

NO ONE CAN overlook the facts that many other counties now have regional or county planning units hard at work, that Columbiana County is not receiving its share of new industry, and that there is a clearcut need to coordinate the various trends of development in the region.

The down-to-earth preparatory work of the commission now begins with these committee studies. The success of regional planning and the commission's recommendations will depend on the effectiveness of the studies.

Those with an eye to the future growth of the East Liverpool area and the county in general sincerely hope the commission and the committee will accomplish the difficult task they face, so vital to all of us—not today, but in the years soon to come.

Blood On The Snow

We are faced in the outcome of the New Hampshire primary with a situation similar to that of a foreigner watching baseball.

The action must be explained by the experts.

Well, the experts have been explaining. We have listened.

They have told us Ambassador Lodge, who wasn't running but had a lot of money going for him, scored a smashing triumph. This is puzzling because we aren't taking Ambassador Lodge seriously as a potential Republican presidential candidate and we don't think Republican voters in New Hampshire were taking him seriously, either.

The experts have told us Sen. Goldwater didn't prove his extremely conservative views are as popular as he and his backers thought they would be if they were matched with the views of liberal Republicans like Gov. Rockefeller.

THE SENATOR and his friends, who also are experts, have told us they left no blood on the New Hampshire snow; that all they left there was a set of tracks to mark the beginning of a journey that won't end short of San Francisco next July, at the 1964 Republican convention.

As to Gov. Rockefeller, he, too, insists he left no blood on the New Hampshire snow, but from here it looks as if he just may have left all his presidential hopes up there in the Granite State.

We are inclined to bracket him at this point with Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, whose presidential parachute didn't open, and Harold Stassen, who has turned into a hardy perennial that comes up by force of habit but never blooms.

ALL THINGS considered, including what happened to that steady GOP wheel-horse, Richard M. Nixon, who was given a steady vote of steady party confidence, the New Hampshire primary proved that those who get tangled up in it are brave souls.

They can't win much if they win. What has Ambassador Lodge won?

But if they don't win, they can risk the loss of their political lives.

It has been estimated that primary hoopla in New Hampshire this year—the intensive TV coverage, chiefly — brought $200,000 into a state that needs the cash. The only real winners were motel operators, restaurant proprietors and natives who manned telephones to relay results.

The real losers are like the fellow who didn't know his head had been cut off in one pass with a razor until he shook it in disbelief. It takes a little while to realize what happened.

Baseball Is Reassuring

Whether baseball is really the national game is good for an argument anywhere. But those who get carried away on the negative side and predict baseball's disappearance as a spectator sport should fix one thing in their minds.

Baseball is a game played by ordinary men.

Its journeymen and its stars are rarely distinguished in physical appearance. Many are a shade smaller than the ordinary run of males in the American scene.

They are baseball players not because of extraordinary height or unusual bulk but because of their reflexes, agility, durability, speed afoot, sure hands, batting eyes and the special kind of savvy some people have about "rounders."

This is baseball's stoutest hold on crowd support.

Basketball has ruled out would-be players of ordinary height. Football has been staked out by players of gargantuan size; an ordinary aspirant has no chance.

Only baseball among the three spectator sports gives a fan a chance to identify himself with 165-pounds waiting at the plate for the pitch they want, or wily infielders scampering to his left to backhand a hot shot through the hole. This just may be baseball's salvation — this identity with the common man.

Sometimes he had to go further and beat up their big brothers and their crazy coots of fathers, too. But our ancestors had the sense to let a teacher protect himself.

When women teachers came along, they were protected, too. Any punk kid who laid a hand on a schoolmarm had his head knocked askew by another pupil or one of the men of the community.

That was before officeholders hit on the million-vote idea of sewing up big-city votes with massed minorities living under a political protectorate that gave their kids a license to run amuck in classrooms.

NEW YORK CITY is reaping a whirlwind. It shouldn't be surprised.

It has been sowing the seeds long enough. Before the harvest is over it may have to admit what is obvious — that it has turned teaching from a dignified profession into a way to live dangerously in every school district terrorized by wild children.

This 'n That

The helicopter is proving valuable as an instrument of reforestation of the cut-over timberland in the American Northwest. To provide an even distribution of seed, the helicopter usually flies over an area twice, the second time at right angles to the first flight.

In the United States, more than 90 per cent of new automobiles manufactured are distributed domestically, while in Britain six out of every 10 cars manufactured are exported.

The average American jobholder, including workers living in the small towns all the way up to the big cities and their suburbs, spends 18 minutes traveling from his home to his place of business.

Presidential Primaries Inconclusive

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Americans who boast about their representative system of government must inevitably be at a loss to defend the so-called presidential — preference primary system in the United States.

What conclusions can be drawn, for instance, from the New Hampshire primary? Do David Lawrence the results mean that the Republican party has been revealed as an organization the majority of whose members adhere to any particular set of principles? Does any candidate for the nomination, whether he made speeches or merely allowed his name to be written in on the ballot, emerge with a preference expressed by a majority of the votes cast?

Also, why doesn't the state of New Hampshire require a runoff primary to determine the winner as between the two persons who in the first contest received the highest number of votes but not a majority?

These questions illustrate the confusing and inconclusive nature of the primary election held in New Hampshire this week. It can hardly be said that the election reflects the viewpoint of the Republican party as such, and it would be difficult to write a party platform based on the speeches made by the various candidates striving for the presidential nomination on the Republican ticket.

THE DEVICE of a runoff for local offices is widely used today in those states where one party dominates and where the tendency is for several candidates to enter the primary race, since winning the party nomination generally is tantamount to election.

There is no objection, of course, to a preliminary skirmish, as it gives everybody a fair chance. But once the vote has been split up, it's logical for another election to be held to determine the voter preference as between the two who polled the largest number of votes without either getting a majority.

The theory that members of each party shall vote in a primary to choose their respective nominees for the presidency is sound, but there are many defects in state laws about determining who is eligible to vote in a party primary.

It's possible in some states, for instance, for a citizen who is not a Republican to exercise as much power in a primary election as a citizen who has identified himself with and voted for the Republican party in preceding elections.

Another defect in the primary system is that the results are not always binding on the chosen delegates when they meet in the national party convention. As soon as it is apparent that one candidate for the presidency is approaching a majority in the balloting, the delegates from states committed to other candidates suddenly desert the man to whom they are pledged and climb on the bandwagon.

THERE IS an additional weakness. Only a few states have enacted primary laws. Hence, the delegates from other states wield the real power in the conventions.

Clearly, there is need for a uniform system of eligibility requirements and for a federal law which would require a national primary election, covering every state. Run-off elections could be provided in those instances where no candidate received a majority.

President Wilson was one of the early champions of the primary system, but he didn't think the prevailing method of choosing delegates to the national party conventions was a good one. In a message to Congress in December 1913, he said:

"I urge the prompt enactment of legislation which will provide for primary elections throughout the country at which the voters of the several parties may choose their nominees for the presidency without the intervention of nominating conventions. I venture the suggestion that this legislation should provide for the retention of party conventions, but only for the purpose of declaring and accepting the verdict of the primaries and formulating the platforms of the parties; and I suggest that these conventions should consist not of delegates chosen for this single purpose, but of the nominees for Congress, the senators whose terms have not yet closed, the national committees, and the candidates for the presidency themselves, in order that platforms may be framed by those responsible to the people for carrying them into effect."

THE PRESENT-DAY national conventions are somewhat more representative than the ones of a few decades ago — which were almost always controlled by party bosses — but there would be an improvement if, in making up the delegations, more responsibility were placed on members of each party in Congress or those who aspire to seats in either house. For they themselves would have to appear on the ballot in the same or future elections.

They are familiar with national issues, and would be more likely to select someone who would be expected to win or at least be better qualified to hold the office of president than the candidate nominated by so many puppet delegates who customarily go to the national party conventions.

Cheers Greet Convicted Racketeer

By VICTOR RIESEL

Recently, a chap by the name of Joe Fay, whose grim word was once law inside labor, attended a dinner at Newark, N.J., honoring an old buddy of his.

When "Joey" was recognized, the crowd in the jammed hotel ballroom burst into a rip roaring ovation. Among those who shouted greetings during the tumultuous applause were some mighty important congressmen, state legislators and hundreds of powerful labor leaders.

It seemed as though Joe Fay had never been convicted of extorting more than $368,000 from New York and New Jersey contractors for which he served eight years in Sing Sing and Dannemora.

Joe Fay, who controlled the International Union of Operating Engineers (IUOE) until he went to prison, now lives quietly on a $13,107 annual "pension" paid him by the powerful Newark Local 825 of the Operating Engineers. This payment has increased with the cost of living and now is some $500-a-year more than it was back in '58.

THESE securities, in addition, gave Weber a one-eighth interest in the company which hired operating engineers who were members of Local 825. As leader of the local, Weber negotiated with Public Constructors and signed the union contract conditions for his own "825" members.

THE BUSINESS MANAGER of Local 825 is also charged with having received a gift of a 25 per cent interest in the Jersey Equipment Co. It was from this firm that Weber received $19,500 in partnership profits. It so happens that the Jersey Equipment Co. leases equipment out to Public Constructors.

The basic issue is whether a labor leader should sit on both sides of the table. Can he be a union chief and a part owner of firms which hire men whom he leads and for whom he bargains?

Weber does well enough as the actual chief of Local 825, which paid him $26,700 in salary and $12,310 in expenses for the '62-'63 fiscal year. He claims there is no conflict. In fact, he adds that he did it for the good of his members. The government charges that this is a conspiracy in violation of the Taft-Hartley law.

Above and beyond all this is another ethical issue. This union paid Fay and his wife special payments and benefits totaling $238,000 after Fay went to prison for extortion. Since then Fay has received another $50,000 from his "pension." In addition, the union paid for part of his defense.

"Pete" Weber says the union members wanted it that way. This may be true. But why do important national and state lawmakers flock to a public dinner and cheer men with such backgrounds?

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In all fairness, all organized labor should write Washington, D. C., and demand that the 44 per cent raise, from $22,500 to $32,500 a year for the House of Representatives, be put on a ballot and let labor's rank and file vote on it.

The steel worker's and railroad's last small raise was called inflationary by these same gentlemen who are about to vote themselves such an outrageous raise.

President Johnson talks about cutting government spending, yet he sits idly by and says nothing about the millions of dollars this will cost the government and taxpayers.

Perhaps this is part of his so-called "War on Poverty" — our poverty-stricken congressmen who complain of not being able to make ends meet and needing more money to maintain two homes while in office.

It is their choice to become a public office holder; Why not let them move closer to their jobs like anyone else.

I say, let the taxpayer vote! GEORGE CORNWELL SR. Calcutta

State Department Operating As If Lodge Will Keep Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is operating as if Henry Cabot Lodge will stay on indefinitely as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Lodge's New Hampshire primary victory has boosted his Republican presidential nomination prospects, and stateside sador may resign and fight for the GOP nomination.

The word is that President Johnson has left it up to Lodge to say when and if he decides to forsake the diplomatic arena for the political.

Lodge said again Wednesday he does not plan to leave Saigon or resign. Citing foreign service regulations, he cabled Oregon authorities he was not a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in the state's May 15 primary.

Some figure that both Johnson and Lodge have reasons for avoiding a Saigon ambassadorial change now.

There is speculation that Lodge wants to know more about his nomination prospects before making any public commitment.

Johnson is described as satisfied with the way Lodge has been performing his duties. And Lodge, the 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee, represents a sort of political insurance against GOP attacks on the administration's handling of the war in Viet Nam.

Insurance Group Sets Election At Weirton

WEIRTON — The biennial election to name 17 employee directors of the Employees' Relief and Beneficial Association to administer the group insurance program at The Weirton Steel Co. will be held in company plants on Thursday and Friday, April 16 and 17.

The election committee said balloting for the director posts will be conducted at designated precincts within all Weirton Steel plants. Placards advising employees of the locations of the various polling places will be posted throughout the mills.

Polls will open at 6 a. m. on April 16 at the sheet mill and tin mill departments and will close at 6 a. m. on April 17. Voting hours at the strip steel and steel works departments and the Steubenville Plant will be from 7 a. m. on April 16 to 7 a. m. on April 17. The committee said the polling places will be kept open for 24 hours to give employees on all turns an opportunity to cast their ballots.

Postmasters Chosen

WASHINGTON (AP) — William O. Lightfritz, New Marshall, Wallace D. Starr, New Straitsville, and Robert E. Anger, Ottawa, have been nominated for postmaster positions in Ohio. Their names were sent to the Senate Wednesday by President Johnson.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

THE FIELD OF BLOOD

Realizing at last the enormity of his crime, Judas returned to the temple with the 30 pieces of silver and tried to give them back to the chief priests.

"I have sinned and betrayed innocent blood," he confessed.

When the chief priests refused to hear him out, he flung the pieces of silver into the temple, then, in despair, went out and hanged himself.

The chief priests were at a loss what to do with the money, arguing among themselves that "it is not lawful to put them into the treasury, seeing that it is the price of blood." Finally they used it to buy the potter's field as a burial place for criminals and strangers. To this day, the field is still called "Haceldama," which means "the field of blood."

Goldwater-Rockefeller Fight Set For California Primary

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The California primary June 2 will be a two-man contest between the big losers in New Hampshire—Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

It's too late for the surprise winner in New Hampshire, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, or any one else to enter this state's primary in search of its giant bloc of 86 votes.

Write-in votes, which gave Lodge his victory in New Hampshire, are not allowed.

So the California primary will provide the clear-cut test that had been anticipated originally in New Hampshire—between conservative and liberal Republicanism as represented by Goldwater and Rockefeller, respectively.

Both candidates, who saw months of hard campaigning in New Hampshire wiped out by the Lodge victory, are planning intensive efforts in this key state.

Rockefeller flew into Sacramento, the California capital, Wednesday within hours after conceding victory to Lodge. He will be here through Saturday morning.

Goldwater will come to California Friday from his home in Phoenix, Ariz. He has announced he will be "busy all week" campaigning.

As Rockefeller began his California swing he continued to interpret Lodge's victory as a tribute to a New England native son.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a boy, 14, who has been reading your column for three years.

My father is a trucker and has to be away from home about four nights a week. I know now for sure my mother has another man in the house at night when my father is gone. A separate door leads to my mother's room and the man uses that door to come in and leave.

My mother doesn't know I know this but I'm sure I'm right because I have seen the man in broad daylight four or five times.

The question is, should I tell my father? He has a very hot temper and I'm afraid he would just about kill my mother if he found out about this other man.

Please tell me what to do. I can't sleep nights from worrying. — SCARED.

Dear Scared: Don't tell your father — Tell your mother. Let's hope that when she learns her shameful behavior is causing you anxiety and sleepless nights she will straighten around. If this doesn't do it, write to me again and I'll advise you further.

Supper Caller

Dear Ann: What can I do about my husband's sister? Irene telephones my husband every night at 5:45 — right in the middle of supper. He had an extension cord put on the phone. The phone sits right on the dining room table.

The children hate it, and so do I. We never can have a family discussion because we know Aunt Irene is going to use up our meal time with her nonsense and gossip. Sometimes she reads articles from the church bulletin or Bible quotations which she thinks are timely.

For years I have put up with this. I wrote to you last October and asked what to do. You said to "tell him." Well, I told him, and here is what he told me: "Irene has been like a mother to me. I wouldn't hurt her feelings for the world."

What do I do now? — SECOND TO SISTER.

Dear Second: Don't you think 5:45 is a trifle early for supper? Why don't you change it to 6:15 — after Irene's call?

This change of schedule could solve the problem. It's a cinch you husband isn't going to change and neither is Irene.

Clergyman's Problem

Dear Ann: I'm a clergyman with a problem. Our church is small and the congregation is large. On Sunday there is never sufficient room on the first floor to seat all the people. We have adopted a procedure that many of our ushers do not think is right.

Often the younger children (grammar school age) occupy the front pews. When the older members of the congregation arrive (often just a few moments before the services begin) the youngsters are asked to surrender their seats and go sit in the choir loft. The choir loft is comfortable and they can see and hear just as well as downstairs.

Since the opinions are so evenly divided will you give us your thinking? — FATHER J. P. OF KAHULUI, HAWAII.

Dear Father: In congregations which have no assigned seats I believe in "first come, first served."

The youngsters should not be asked to surrender their seats to adults who arrive moments before the service. Of course, if a late comer is aged or infirm, he should not be asked to climb the stairs. Some polite youngster then cheerfully would surrender his seat.

P.S.: Father, you have high-class worries. A crowded church is the highest compliment that can be paid to a clergyman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fire Causes $4,000 Loss In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Damage was estimated at $4,000 to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foreman, 1082 N. Market St., where fire broke out at the rear of the structure while the family was away Wednesday night. Fireman Wayne Todd suffered a cut hand on glass during the blaze.

Mrs. Foreman was at church, and her husband was visiting a son, William Foreman, at Petersburg.

The back porch, where the flames apparently started, was heavily damaged, along with the kitchen and a bathroom, and there was smoke and water damage in the interior.

Challenge Topic Of Speaker For Wellsville Group

Robert Travers of the First Baptist Church of Wellsville spoke on the theme of "The Challenge" at the meeting of the Women's Association Tuesday night in the social rooms of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville.

He discussed the topic in relationship to the racial problem and pointed out how it could be met by getting rid of apathy and prejudice. He said prejudice is a lack of understanding and it is costing the Negro his freedom. A question-and-answer period followed. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Mary Alice Pugh, program chairman.

Mrs. Cedric Stanway led devotions on the theme, "Becoming Mature In Christ," from Col. 1:24-27. She read excerpts from the book, "Living Letters," and used the yearbook of prayer for missionaries and projects in the Sudan and the Shenango Presbytery. Business was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Erwin, president. She announced the Daily Vacation Bible School will be held June 1-12 from 9 to 11:30 a. m. in the church with the Rev. James Sanko and the Rev. Lewis Fraser as co-ordinators. An appeal was made for bandages for Dr. Dan Reynolds for use in his work in Ethiopia.

Leaders for the study of "The Challenge" by the circles were Mrs. Ella Rankin, Mrs. Jean Fraser and Mrs. Stanway. Mrs. Vera Valentine, one of the members of the WMS of Lee's Chapel of the African Methodist Episcopal Church who were guests, offered thanks. An Easter arrangement in a white hobnail bowl and lavender tapers in similar holders were used for the centerpiece for the buffet table. Hostesses were Mrs. Helen McClain, Mrs. Margaret Shoub, Mrs. Peg Ewing, Mrs. Evelyn Curry and Mrs. Ann Kiggins.

the community to discuss flood relief, the mayor said.

Stratton, located north of Empire, was not as hard hit. Volunteer firemen and residents started washing down the streets this morning.

Water still is in the basements, having come up through the sewers. Pumping operations in the main sewer lines will begin this afternoon, which will allow basements to drain.

One child was taken ill during the night and was evacuated in a boat and taken to a hospital at Steubenville. The homes are without gas for heat.

Although the river was falling, the rate of fall varied, depending on location.

Some said the river was receding rapidly in New Cumberland, where Routes 66 and 2 in the upper end of the village remained closed today. Traffic continued to use Hardins Run Rd. as a detour.

Deputy sheriffs said the fall seemed fast enough that there was a chance the roads might be reopened this afternoon.

The river crested at an estimated 45.6 feet in New Cumberland, where the sheriff's office said. Deputies said the last report was 45 feet and the river appeared to rise several more inches.

None of the 100 families forced out have returned to their homes although some residing in the flooded upper end of the county seat attempted to check their homes to assess the damage.

The majority of homes in the Congo community below Newell remained under water with only three families able to get in and out.

The water reached several feet on the main floors of the homes of about 27 other families who moved out.

The Northern Hancock Red Cross chapter said it is expecting case workers from national headquarters to arrive to investigate applications for relief. Headquarters may be established in Wheeling, a spokesman said.

However, the spokesman said nothing can be done until the families have returned to their homes.

Approximately 60 New Cumberland families were able to move their furniture before the water reached their homes but there may be damage to the houses. The water affected both the homes and equipment of the other families.

Wellsville's main floodwall gate on Wells Ave. — Route 7 — was taken down by 4:25 a. m. and the first traffic moved through within a few minutes. The weary volunteer firemen started removing the gate apparatus at 2 p. m.

The water receded steadily and by 11 last night firemen were hosing down mud on Wells Ave. while there still was water close to the gate.

The river deposited a great deal of mud, according to Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare, who said the crews will continue the cleanup work today.

He said the city will help any one it can. The floodwall pumps will operate until the water drops below 30 feet.

The crest at Wellsville will go on the books at 44-feet. The two small railroad gates will be removed today. The water never reached them.

Route 7 still was closed at Empire and Stratton at mid-morning but was expected to be opened later, according to the Winterville State Highway Patrol. Route 7 below Steubenville also remained closed, the patrol said.

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department office at Rochester said the bridge over Beaver Creek at Smiths Ferry was opened to traffic about 5 a. m.

Within a couple of hours the water receded from the roadway in the vicinity of Vanport, opening Route 68 all the way to Beaver.

Smiths Ferry residents chased from their homes by the rising waters returned this morning and began cleaning out the mud and debris.

In East Liverpool, Mayor Merrill D. Hall said a large section of the River Rd. still was inundated at mid-morning. He said it was too early to determine when the road will be open to traffic generally again.

However, the pavement will be inspected for damage and muck left by the receding water will be cleared away before the road is used generally again, the mayor said. He said the falling water left deep accumulations of muck, especially in low-lying spots in the pavement.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the street department had not received any requests yet to return evacuated families to their homes in Jethro or Little England.

As the water rose, the city moved one family out of Jethro and helped another shift its furniture upstairs. One family moved out of Little England, but without seeking the city's help.

A few West End youngsters took advantage of the flooding of Patterson Field to make an impromptu swimming pool out of the athletic field early Wednesday night.

Police were dispatched at 6:54 p. m. yesterday after a West End woman telephoned that she could see "boys swimming at Patterson Field."

Police said the boys were chased out of the field with a warning.

Patty Mullen with sales of $86 was top salesman for the drive. Other top sellers, in order, were Sue Bomberger, Beth Williams, Barbara Crawford, Sandy Cunningham, Jeff Ward and Darlene Smith.

The band will receive 35 percent of the sales, the money to be used for purchase of needed instruments, Sprague said. The candy will be delivered by band members the weekend before Easter.

Elkton Congregation To Air Project Plans

Architect's plans for a new addition to the Elkton Methodist Church will be considered at a congregational meeting tonight at 8 at the church.

300 Expected To Hear Taft

Three hundred are expected at a dinner meeting of the Western Columbiana County Republican Club Friday at 7 p. m. at Knox School, northeast of Home- worth, to hear an address by Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., candidate for the U. S. Senate from Ohio.

Now an Ohio congressman-at-large, Taft will oppose Secretary of State Ted W. Brown in the May 5 Republican primaries.

Allen Dalrymple of Wellsville, candidate for 18th Ohio District congressman, will introduce Rep. Taft.

Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, president, will be toastmaster. Olan Sanor of East Rochester will lead the pledge of allegiance.

The Rev. Robert Swanson of Middle Sandy Presbyterian Church at Homeworth will offer the invocation. The Rev. Wesley J. Runk of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church of North Georgetown will give the benediction.

Arthur Kibler of Hanoverton will present several musical selections and also will lead group singing. Mrs. James Stewart of Homeworth will present organ music prior to the dinner.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Nellie Sinclair of Hanoverton and Mrs. Luree Lippincott and Mrs. Maxine Radesky of East Rochester.

by the floods were at least nine deaths—seven in Ohio and one each in Indiana and Kentucky.

Bodies of two Ohio men who disappeared in high waters Monday night were found Wednesday.

Two waitresses at Zanesville were carried to their deaths when their car crashed through a guard rail into flooded Jonathan Creek.

The damage from the flood will be millions of dollars, officials say.

Parkersburg Relying On Floodwalls Today

By The Associated Press
Parkersburg and other Ohio River cities were relying on floodwalls today to keep them from the torrent of water that poured into Wheeling, New Martinsville and other upstream areas Wednesday.

The dirty brown Ohio, swollen by recent rains and melting snow, crested at 47 feet, 11 feet above flood stage, at Wheeling late Wednesday but not before hundreds of families had been forced to seek higher ground.

Democrat Committee To Plan District Rally

Don Gosney, county chairman, said the Columbiana County Democratic Committee will meet tonight at 8 at the party headquarters at Lisbon to discuss participation in the 18th District rally.

The rally of party members from the five-county area of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Harrison and Carroll will be held at the Community Area at Steubenville April 18 with Sen. Hubert Humphrey as principal speaker.

Gosney said also further plans will be made for the primary May 5.

chairman, the ordinance provides.

The commission will function with two Executive Commissions — the Commission of Inter-Group Relations and the Commission of Employment Practices, the ordinance provides. The mayor explained the two commissions will be named from the membership of 12.

The legislation gives the board the right to investigate alleged cases of employment discrimination. If the board finds, after a hearing, that a discriminatory act has been committed, it may issue a "cease and desist" order to the defendant.

The ultimate step, if the board's orders are ignored, would be prosecution in Municipal Court, for which the maximum penalty on conviction would be a fine of $100 or a 20-day jail term.

Enactment of the ordinance represented a victory after at least 18 months' effort on the part of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The ordinance spelling out all the duties and responsibilities of the board covers six legal size pages.

NIT Tourney Opens Today

NCAA Firing Resumes On Friday Night

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
A lull in the NCAA championship tournament shifts the college basketball spotlight tonight to the opening of the National Invitation Tourney in New York.

Syracuse, on the rebound after losing 27 straight two years ago, meets disappointing NYU in the feature of the NIT doubleheader at Madison Square Garden after Miami of Florida plays St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

The NCAA, which determines the national champion, resumes Friday night with second round games at Raleigh, Minneapolis, Wichita and Corvallis, Ore.

These games pair Duke vs. Villanova and Princeton vs. Connecticut at Raleigh; Kentucky vs. Ohio Univ. and Michigan vs. Chicago Loyola at Minneapolis; Kansas State vs. Texas Western and Wichita vs. Creighton at Wichita and San Francisco vs. Utah State and UCLA vs. Seattle at Corvallis.

The small college boys dominated Wednesday's action which saw Iona defeat Seton Hall 87-82 in the only major game scheduled.

In the quarter-finals of the NCAA small college tourney at Evansville, Ind., Akron beat Hofstra 77-58, North Carolina A&T defeated Adelphi 83-80, State College of Iowa downed Southeast Missouri 93-85 and Evansville whipped Cal Poly of Pomona 95-73. In tonight's semi-finals Evansville meets State College of Iowa and Akron takes on North Carolina A&T.

Pan-American of Texas, the defending champion, defeated St. Cloud, Minn. 81-76 in the second round of the NAIA at Kansas City, Mansfield, Pa., St. Mary's, Tex., High Point, Carson-Newman, Rockhurst, Emporia State and Central Oklahoma also advanced to today's quarter-finals.

Bouton Signs '64 Contract

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Jim Bouton, who wanted the New York Yankees to double his salary, has signed his 1964 contract, saying "They had me over a barrel."

Bouton arrived at the Yankees' spring training camp Wednesday and accepted a contract calling for $18,000. The right-hander said he originally was going to ask for a $15,000 raise but lowered his price to $10,000 after encountering front office resistance.

He won 21 games and lost seven and had a 2.53 earned run average, the team's best, on a $10,000 salary last year.

New York General Manager Ralph Houk had threatened Bouton with a $100 fine for every day he was absent from camp after Wednesday midnight.

"I couldn't afford to lose $100 a day," Bouton said. "I have a wife and baby."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The defending champions of professional golfing's four biggest tournaments led the field into the first round today of the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open.

The new Big Three included Jack Nicklaus, winner of last year's Masters and PGA tournaments; Julius Boros, winner of the U.S. Open, and Bob Charles, winner of the British Open.

The field also included the winners of four of this year's eight PGA tournaments and six of the 10 current leading money winners.

It included the last four St. Petersburg Open winners — George Bayer, Bob Goalby, Bobby Nichols and Raymond Floyd. In Wednesday's pro-am warm-up, Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and amateur Paul Tarnow of Tampa shot six-under-par 66s.

E.J. (Dutch) Harrison came down the back nine with a 29 for a five-under-par 67. Mason Rudolph, No. 3 on the money list and winner of the New Orleans open two weeks ago, also had a 67.

Willie Must Improve On Lefthanders
By CHARLES MAHER
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Willie McCovey, who threw a few prophetic for a loss by becoming the regular left fielder of the San Francisco Giants, was asked what's to keep him from hitting 50 home runs this season.

"It's between me and the left-handed pitchers," he said. "I feel if I can do better against them I'll improve my home run output."

It doesn't really require much improvement. McCovey tied Hank Aaron of Milwaukee for the National League home run title last year. Besides hitting 44 homers, he also drove in 102 runs, batted .280, ran up 319 total bases and had a .566 slugging percentage.

But one thing troubles him. "I hit 36 home runs off right-handed pitchers," he said, "and just eight off left-handers."

"Now, any time a left-handed batter hits 44 home runs, you expect him to get more than eight off left-handed pitchers. I think I'd have to get at least 12, or maybe 15, off left-handers to finish up around 50."

"I think I'm capable of hitting a little more. But I'm not telling you I will. I'm not saying I'm going to."

"I'd be satisfied with another season like last year. But I would like to improve my average a little. Anybody wants to hit .300."

Willie is almost a dead pull hitter, and he seems to suspect that by pulling the ball so consistently he may be pulling down his average.

The Belmont Stakes will have its 96th running on June 6 at Aqueduct. It is at one mile and a half.

Protest Drab Affair

Griffith-Duran Fight Ends As Irate Fans Litter Ring

By PIERO deGARZAROLLI
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—The boos of the fans still rang in welterweight champion Emile Griffith's ears today as he declared "I shall never again fight in Italy."

This apparently won't make the Roman fight fans as mad as the drab no decision affair involving the New Yorker and Argentina's Juan Carlos Duran Wednesday night in the beautiful, high-domed Sports Palace.

Irate fans in the crowd of 12,000 brought a sudden end to the scheduled 10-round nonlitter bout in the seventh round when they littered the ring with bot-ties, oranges, shoes and garbage in protest of the dull cat-and-mouse bout. At times some fans yelled "Fix."

There was so much junk in the ring that referee Fernando Pica couldn't kick it all out. Then Pica, who had warned both fighters several times to show some life and throw more punches, stopped to consult with the three judges.

They decided to end the bout because of "the intemperance of the crowd."

Police swarmed into the ring to protect the fighters and escort them to their dressing rooms.

The boxers probably will get their purses since the decision to suspend the bout was based on the crowd's conduct rather than on the lack of action.

Griffith, who chased the evasive Argentine most of the way, was leading on The Associated Press scorecard, four rounds to one, with one even.

The Argentine, who now lives in Italy, also was upset.

"I'm ready to meet Griffith again in Milan without asking a cent," he said. "I have been eager for so long to fight a big name boxer that I am ready to fight for nothing. But if Griffith is a world champion then I am a universal champion."

Ex-Michigan U. Star To Try For Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dave Raimey, former star halfback at the University of Michigan, has decided to forsake Canadian professional football and try out for a spot on the 1964 Cleveland Browns squad, the National Football League club announced today.

Raimey, a 9.7 sprinter, was the Browns' ninth-round draft choice a year ago, but he decided to try Canadian football. However, he was unable to shake off the effects of a late-spring shoulder operation and missed all of last season.

Liston To Face 4 Charges, 2 Suits

DENVER (AP)—Troubles are piling high for Sonny Liston, who lost his heavyweight boxing title to Cassius Clay last month. Municipal court officials said he will be tried between March 17 and April 10 on charges of speeding, reckless and careless driving, carrying a concealed weapon and driving without a valid operator's license. He was arrested Tuesday and released on $300 bond.

Liston's former manager, George Katz of Philadelphia, filed suit in New York City Wednesday asking $1.3 million from Liston for breach of contract.

In another action, federal marshals served Liston with papers Wednesday in a suit for $116,000 filed in Chicago by Ben Bentley, also known as Ben Goldberg, who said he was hired as publicity agent by Liston and Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc.

Jack Nilon, Liston's present advisor, and his brothers, Robert A. and James F. Nilon, and Inter-Continental also were named as defendants in Katz's suit. He charged that the Nilon brothers induced Liston to displace Katz as manager and replace him with Jack Nilon.

To accomplish that, Katz said, Inter-Continental was formed with Liston holding 47½ per cent of the stock and Robert and James Nilon the balance.

Bentley said he was hired by Inter-Continental in December 1962 at a salary of $330 a week. He asked $16,001 in back salary and $100,000 which he said he lost because the firm did not grant him three Chicago outlets for closed-circuit television of the Liston-Clay fight.

The ex-champ was arrested Tuesday night by traffic officer James Snider, who said radar in his patrol car registered Liston's Cadillac speeding 76 miles an hour in a 30 mile an hour zone.

76ers Down Hawks, Help Frisco Five

By The Associated Press
If the San Francisco Warriors, late of Philadelphia, hang up their first National Basketball Association sectional championship since moving West two years ago, they'll owe a debt of gratitude to their Quaker City successors.

The crippled Philadelphia 76ers knocked off the St. Louis Hawks 124-111 Wednesday night and dealt the Hawks' Western Division title hopes a near-fatal blow. St. Louis is now 1½ games behind the first place Warriors and has only four games to make up the difference.

Baltimore, which plays at San Francisco tonight, absorbed a 115-109 defeat from the Lakers at Los Angeles in Wednesday's other scheduled NBA game.

Hal Greer, with 42 points, led the 76ers to victory on the Hawks' home court. The score was tied at halftime 56-56, but Philadelphia gradually pulled away in the second half. Bob Pettit got 25 points for the Hawks.

Elgin Baylor sparked Los Angeles' victory over the undermanned Bullets with 25 points and Rudy LaRusso added 23. Baltimore's Walt Bellamy captured game scoring honors with 31 points.

Brown Leads Many Depts. In Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — After yielding the honors to Jim Taylor for one season, Cleveland's Jimmy Brown got back into stride as the National Football League's most rugged runner in 1963.

The result was that official NFL rushing statistics, released today, gave Brown these firsts: Individual champion, best average, most touchdowns, most attempts, best one-game performance and longest run. With that kind of performances from Brown, Cleveland won the team rushing title for the first time since 1959.

In winning the individual championship for the sixth time in seven years, Brown gained 1,863 yards, shattering his own 1958 record of 1,527. Taylor, who interrupted Jimmy's string in 1962, when Brown was bothered by a wrist injury and disagreement with Coach Paul Brown, was second with 1,018 yards and Tim Brown of Philadelphia third with 841.

The Browns' Brown carried the ball 291 times, 14 short of his own NFL record. He averaged 6.4 yards per carry and scored 12 touchdowns by rushing. His longest run was 80 yards against Washington and his best game saw him gain 232 yards on 20 attempts against Dallas. The last figure was five yards short of another Brown record.

As a team, Cleveland led in all rushing categories but attempts and touchdowns.

Kaline Turns To Pitching To Strengthen Weak Arm

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Al Kaline, Detroit's No. 1 hitter, has turned to pitching.

It's the first step in a conditioning program aimed at strengthening a weak right arm and guaranteeing a quick getaway when the baseball season opens.

"When I was younger," said the 29-year-old outfielder after a workout at the Tigers' training base, "I never had any trouble. But in recent years I've been running into problems with my arm, and I've had to ease up on my swing. It's kept me from getting off to a good start."

"So, I've been working out just like a pitcher — throwing, catching, running."

Kaline, who challenged for the American League batting title last year and finished with a .312 average, also has been doing exercises on a roller-type system of equipment designed to build up his right knee.

"It's a Mantle-type thing," said Kaline, who agreed he could have suffered serious damage when he banged against a wall during a game at Los Angeles last July. Mantle broke his leg in a similar accident at Baltimore last season. Kaline pulled a ligament.

"It popped as I hit the wall," Kaline explained, "and for a while it was gimpy. Sometimes when I put a lot of pressure on it, it would buckle. I played on it for about 2½ months. Then I went into a nose dive, and by the last two weeks of the season, I had to sit on the bench."

The nose dive cost Kaline an opportunity to win the batting championship for the first time since 1955 when he was in his third year with the Tigers.

It also sent him off to Mayo Clinic for a complete physical and a lengthy rest period.

The United States has protested both sales.

Coroner's Ruling Due

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A coroner's ruling was awaited in the death of Donald Squires, 5, of Akron. Detectives said the parents told them the boy was running out of the bathroom when he struck his head on a door in their home.

5 Of Family Die In Blaze At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Five members of a family perished early today in a fire that swept their East Side home.

The victims were identified as James Hajas, 28, and his four children—Terry, 8, James Jr., 6, Vicki, 5, and Sharon, 3.

Hajas' wife, Judy, 25 was admitted to St. Alexis Hospital with head cuts and suffering from shock. She was reported in good condition.

The cause of the fire and an estimate of the damage to the 2½ story frame building were not available immediately.

Firemen reported that Mrs. Hajas jumped from the second floor.

The family occupied a four-room apartment above a restaurant and a barber shop at 3529 E. 93rd St.

Forty firemen with 12 pieces of equipment fought the blaze for 30 minutes before bringing it under control. The fire was across the street from the 7th Battalion's Engine Co. No. 35 and that unit was the first to respond to the alarm.

On Feb. 16 a mother and her five children were killed in a fire that destroyed a two-family home on the East Side. The victims occupied the upstairs apartment. The father escaped by jumping out an upstairs window.

Twelve persons, including nine children, fled to safety from the first-floor apartment.

Auto Mishap Turns Into Family Affair

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An auto accident turned into a sort of family affair.

The officer who made the report of the hit-run accident was Arlyn Bragg, while the policeman sent to catch the driver was Bragg's identical twin, Allyn Bragg.

When the California Highway Patrol became involved, the patrolman sent to the scene was Al Bragg — their father.

White Paint Helps Police Nab Speeders

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Innocent-looking squares of white paint on Kansas highways are helping state troopers catch speeding motorists.

The blocks are painted at two-mile intervals and are readily visible from the air.

Troopers in state patrol planes use a stop watch and a mathematical table to calculate the speed of motorists between the squares of paint.

What Happened In Hampshire? GOP's Old Pros Survey Confused Political Scene

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party's old pros — its grassroots leaders — surveyed a topsy-turvy political scene today and tried to figure out what happened in New Hampshire and what it will mean.

Most of them saw it as a victory of one kind or another for their particular favorite in the apparently wide-open GOP presidential nominating derby.

Many of the state GOP chairmen polled by The Associated Press discounted Henry Cabot Lodge's write-in victory as little more than New Englanders giving a favorite son pat on the back to another New Englander.

Others took the view of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton; that Lodge is now one of the leading contenders "at the very least."

Some — particularly backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona — saw it as a blow to the hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's backers contended the governor was the one who gained most. They argued he finished close to the second-place Goldwater after having trailed badly in the polls at the start of the New Hampshire campaign.

Richard M. Nixon, who ran fourth in the primary via write-ins, gave his view of what happened at a news conference Wednesday night.

"That very independent Yankee spirit seems to favor candidates who were farther away than the ones who were there," Nixon said.

He also said it would be a mistake to count on Goldwater and Rockefeller and declared: "The battle is still to be fought."

Practically all the state chairmen felt the same way — that there was a lot more ground, and primaries, to be covered before the candidate would be picked at the July nominating convention.

Thus the spotlight swung across country from the icy land of New Hampshire to sunny California where Rockefeller is already at work mining votes for the June 2 primary there.

Marine Union Strike Looms At Lake Ports

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (AFL-CIO) are scheduled to go on strike at Great Lakes ports if no progress is made in a bargaining session here next Monday.

That was the word Wednesday from Melvin H. Pelfrey, union vice president, following a day-long meeting between representatives of the union and 16 steam ship company owners.

8 Arrested In Abortion Ring Probe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Seven men and women have been arrested and a Youngstown racket figure is being sought in the investigation of an abortion ring, Warrensville Heights police report. Joseph J. (Fats) Aiello, 51, charged with aiding and abetting two abortions, is being sought by police and the FBI. Police disclosed the arrests Wednesday after FBI agents nabbed Joseph White, 41, in New Castle, Pa., on a warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for abortion. Warrensville Heights police said White is charged with two abortions allegedly performed Feb. 20 at a motel in the suburb. Arraigned in Grove City, Pa., late Wednesday, White was ordered held for a preliminary hearing and lodged in jail in lieu of $5,000 bond. Aiello has been sought for about a week, according to police, who said that three men and three women, in addition to White and Aiello, have been charged with aiding and abetting in abortions. Police Chief Herbert Burgess reported that two young Cleveland women admitted that White performed abortions on them at the motel. Two of the men charged with aiding and abetting are friends of the two women and made initial arrangements for the abortions, the chief said. These four have been granted immunity from prosecution by Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan. They were scheduled to appear before the grand jury today. Also charged is Abe Kottler, 50, of Cleveland Heights, described as the go-between for one of the women's friends with the abortion ring. Kottler is free on $5,000 bond. Burgess said the abortions cost $500 each.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Tumblers, Tinklers And Tessie

Elbows hugged to his side but hands extended loosely outward like the branches of a ginkgo tree in winter, knees locked together but ankles and feet played as far apart as is physically possible, Jack Carter comes hobbling toward the camera.

The Jack Carter All-Purpose Hobbler, choreographed to the bam-bam-bam of a drum, generally is rung in to climax a wretched string of gags and is, of course, intended to convey the comically peculiar walk of some celebrity or other.

(A FEW MIGHTS AGO, it was meant to suggest Anthony Newley; and Carter was accompanying his lurching dance with a not quite exact echo of Newley singing "Gonna Build a Mountain.")

All the motion and noise finally comes to a raucous, trumpeting fanfare, and Carter prances out of the spotlight, smack into the arms of Ed Sullivan.

There are some fumbblings that don't quite come together into a handshake as the audience howls at the rafters like a pack of lions walking on thorns. Sullivan says something like "Shay munda forsh dady in phoodun moll" (which is what I thought I heard that Sunday night); and, though you've just tuned in on "The Ed Sullivan Show" 40 minutes late, you have no doubt in the world just where you are.

WITH A SINKING feeling, you know you've missed the troupe from the Julius Monk revue, "Baker's Dozen," and you've got only Carter and a few tumbler to keep you company.

Oh, tumbler are all right. Most people even can squirm through a Jackie Mason or a Jack Carter routine every 18 months or so.

Some of the young singers, though, bring to our sensitive ears about the same base-and-treble ratio as a hacksaw slicing through a beer can.

(Screacher yet is the sound a female vocal group makes when it's walling its way through a medley of contemporary ballads.

BUT ENOUGH of this wool gathering. A few weeks from now, on June 20, the Sullivan show will be celebrating its 17th anniversary—a venerable life indeed when one looks at Judy Garland's showing on the TV mortality tables, or Jerry Lewis.

Sullivan deserves his success, of course. He's worked awfully hard for it, maintaining a high level of performance in an art (vaudeville) that's notoriously undependable. Best of all, he's come up, week after week, with the Big Surprise—whether it's the quiet charm of Sister Sourire or the excitements of the Moscow Circus or the silly-reason frenzy of the Beatles.

And there's no reason in the world why he won't be surprising us still in the year 2000, when Jack Carter's hobble will have become the real thing.

IT'S NOT coincidental, by the way, that the night before Ed Sullivan initially introduced the Beatles to a U.S. audience—a blissful audience that apparently had been sniffing model airplane glue—a new ABC-TV venture in electronic vaudeville, "Hollywood Palace," presented an act called the Andre Tahon Puppets doing a takeoff on the Beatles.

A month earlier, on the eve of Sullivan's filmed visit with the Singing Nun, the very same puppets on the very same "Hollywood Palace" were dancing about to "Dominique."

And if this suggests, that "Palace" is imitative of the Sullivan show—well, it is.

A week or so ago, when an adagio team (Suzzy and Claire), a high-wire act (the Great Walendas), a strutting horse (Roy Rodgers' Trigger), a strident comedy team (Lewis and Christy) and a sweet national monument (Kate Smith) showed up at the "Palace," you'd swear that in a moment Jack Carter would come on doing Anthony Newley.

IN JANUARY, by the way, Newley himself headlined a "Palace" revue, not mimicking Carter but singing a rather jarring tribute to the memory of J.F.K.

It quickly should be said that while Sullivan has an occasional great show (Feb. 9: Georgia Brown and the kids from "Olive!"; plus Tessie O'Shea, plus the Beatles), so does "Hollywood Palace."

And I think especially of the Washington's Birthday show, with Gene Kelly recreating some ancient, two-day dances with the help of Dick Humphries, Alex Plachheart and Joey Heatherton. Both Sullivan and the ABC show have their dreadful offshoots, too, when the comics are sad and the tumbler fat.

The only thing "Hollywood Palace" needs, if it expects to survive into the next century with Sullivan, is an anchor—a steady, dependable host with a coat hanger still in his jacket and buckshot in his mouth.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARY MYERS

Nervous Children Make Poor Grades

There are a good many nervous, jumpy, jittery children, especially in the early elementary grades. The teacher with one or several of these in her classroom may get jittery herself, especially when they lack reasonable self-control and often talk to other Dr. Garry Myers children or distract them when they are supposed to be working quietly. Nor are these nervous children themselves comfortable and happy, as a rule, since they usually get on poorly at books.

An Ohio mother writes of her third-grade son: "He likes to talk a lot in school and his teacher is calling him names. He is in such a state that he has his nails chewed to the quick all the time."

"I HAD A talk with his teacher but I don't think it will do any good. When I try to help him with his lessons at home, he tells me it's no use. 'She won't give me good grades anyway.' In the first and second grade he did well but in the third grade he has been getting, F, U, and D. I am so worried. He has just lost all confidence in his teacher."

My reply in part. No one could approve your child's teacher when she calls him names. But in her place, you might be so annoyed by your child's ways in class as to lose your own poise and self-control.

Next time you go to see this teacher, ask her to suggest ways to help this child at home so he might be a more cooperative pupil; also how you might help him with his lessons at home. She might even propose a program for you to calm him down there, and helping him be more considerate of others.

SEEING THAT you do not place all the blame on her for the child's nervous state and discouragement, she might choose to be more considerate of him at school. Train him at home to be thoughtful of others there, and that he dare not interrupt his parents. Be sure he respects that important word "no."

Between the lines of your letter I read when this boy complains about his teacher you encourage him in self-pity and this reduces his regard for his teacher. Instead, help him see that he must cooperate with his teacher and obey her.

Strive to find ways to help him at home to do better at books, especially at reading.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruze —

Dear Heloise: Here at the National Lumber Manufacturers Association we recommend these methods to remove pet stains from hardwood floors.

If such accidents are not promptly wiped up, the urine penetrates the finish and stains the wood. If the stain has not penetrated too deeply, it can be removed by sanding.

Where the original finish is a floor sealer (a penetrating finish, not a surface finish), the sanded area of exposed wood is recoated with sealer and buffed to a smooth finish with fine steel wool.

Patching of varnish or lacquer film-forming finishes may not blend perfectly with the rest of the floor but, when carefully done, the result is usually less noticeable than the stain.

IF THE STAIN has penetrated too deeply to be removed satisfactorily by sanding alone, NLMA advises completely removing the original finish by sanding, being sure to feather out the edges about four inches, and bleaching the stain with oxalic acid solution.

Apply the oxalic acid solution (use a saturated solution, that is, all the oxalic acid will dissolve in a cup of water), and let it stand on the floor for one hour. Then rinse thoroughly with clean water.

If the spot refuses to yield, a second application may be necessary. If it is, let the area dry, then sand with No. 3-0 sandpaper and again apply the oxalic acid solution. Rinse thoroughly and let dry.

BEFORE REFINISHING buff lightly with No. 3-0 sandpaper to remove the raised grain and roughness. Apply a matching finish, feathering out into the surrounding floor area, then buff with fine steel wool and wax.

If the spot is still objectionable the only remaining remedy is to replace the stained flooring.

HUGH J. MULLINS,
Manager
Consumer Information Dept.

NOTE: ABOUT OXALIC ACID: 1. Take caution in using oxalic acid. IT IS POISON. Use rubber gloves and KEEP OUT OF THE REACH OF CHILDREN. Read Joe Blow's directions (U.S. Department of Agriculture's Handbook No. 204—"Wood Floors for Dwellings").

2. Oxalic acid is a bleaching agent. When used, the floor may require retainting to match the original color of the finish.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: You know those cardboard rolls that come inside foil and waxed paper? Well, my three children decided that they make wonderful telephones!

They put the rolls over their mouths and yell through them . . . or tape two or three of them together and roll marbles, small toys, plastic trucks, etc., through the "tunnel."

But the best of all is when I want the children and they don't hear, I take one of the rolls and call through it! My, does that backfire!

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband's T-shirts always got frayed around the neck band before the rest of the shirt was even worn. He would not wear them this way.

Now I turn the band back half way, and with small stitches I sew it to the original seam where the band is connected to the shirt itself. The stitches do not show, and the result? A good T-shirt with only a slightly smaller band.

GOLDIE.

DEAR GOLDIE: These are the kinds of hints we're looking for. It's so simple but yet something every housewife needs. Thanks a million.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Leftover mashed potatoes, thinned with a little milk and some butter, with a little onion or celery added, makes a wonderful potato soup!

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

On-Again-Off-Again Dieting Futile

A husband implores his wife not to go on another diet. Here's the story . . .

"When I diet I lose three to four pounds a week, but about two weeks is all I can stick to it. Then I go on a spree and eat a few weeks later I'm back on the diet . . . then back on Ida Jean Kain the overeating . . . and gaining. Doing this I actually pushed my weight from 158 to 189 pounds! When I diet I stick to 900 calories . . . but, to tell the truth, I'm not fit to live with! The whole family suffers."

THE PROBLEM of on-again-off-again dieting is more pronounced with those who follow crash programs. How can an overweight break this habit pattern? To pull out of the rut, first discard all old notions about dieting. Stop thinking of diet as torture. Put the blame for excess weight where it belongs . . . on poor food habits. Decide in your own mind that this time you will stop diet-dallying and learn to eat for weight control.

A 900-calorie diet is too low. With a family to take care of, you need 1,100 to 1,200 calories a day while reducing. Your doctor is trying to help you to lose weight. He may set the calories at 900, knowing your inclination to slip in extras. Sur-rise him. Eat three adequate meals a day, keep your total calories within 1200. To prevent eating sprees, have a once-a-week treat. You'll lose pounds! Apply protective nutrition to everyday eating . . . you will find it unexpectedly easy to reduce.

These words from a successful dieter have the sure ring of truth: "If fat people would not learn about food they would not find it hard to reduce. I have reached the place where friends are saying, 'You look wonderful!'" You might say that I have been on a diet, although it isn't so much a diet as it is a protective plan of eating. I followed your 'Eat to Build Leanness' and restricted my servings. It is surprising how well I ate, and I did not go hungry.

"EVERYONE IS complimentary me now and exclaiming, 'What will power!' I tell them that all it takes is to follow a protective pattern. By changing my ways of eating I have reduced from 200 pounds to 150 pounds in seven months. My weight for 5'6" may seem a little high, but I am solidly built. Now that I know how to eat to control the calories, I am never again going to let my weight go over the 150-pound mark."

Congratulations! You have it made . . . the secret lies in your protective food habits. Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

No Johnson-Kennedy Feud, Attorney General Aide Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A close associate of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today reports of a feud between Kennedy and President Johnson are "just silly."

"There is no feud between the two," the aide told a reporter. "The attorney general and President Johnson have never been very close. But they are no farther apart today than they were three months ago. This talk of a feud is just silly."

Informed sources said Johnson and Kennedy had not discussed personally the feud talk. Reports of a rift have engrossed official Washington in the wake of a robust drive to get Kennedy's name written in as Johnson's vice presidential running mate in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

The reports persisted although Kennedy had issued a statement last week saying he wished to discourage any efforts on his behalf in New Hampshire or elsewhere.

Fears had been voiced that Johnson would feel nettled if Kennedy got more write-ins than Johnson did. As it turned out, Johnson polled 29,635, Kennedy 25,861 in the complete, unofficial count. But the feud talk persisted.

The White House has insisted that the schism is a creation of newspaper columnists. A close Johnson associate of long standing said he had "never even heard of this feud, except in the newspapers. They're putting 2 and 2 together and getting 20. I think the Republicans are promoting it to embarrass us."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger scoffed at reports the two men aren't on speaking terms.

Junior Editors Quiz on OSTRICHES

QUESTION: Does an ostrich really bury his head in the ground when alarmed?

ANSWER: No, this is just a fable. One of the reasons for this false notion is that this largest of birds has a very bulky body, but only a thin, scrawny neck bare of feathers. From a distance, you see the body, but the thin neck, may be hardly visible and you might think the head was underground. The ostrich is a magnificent runner, stretching out its long legs with an enormous stride. Streaking off like this, the bird can outrun a man or a horse. But the poor old ostrich is not very smart and can't seem to get over the silly notion that it should run in a circle. The result is that a group of horsemen, coming from different directions, can easily surround the bird and kill it with arrows, spears or guns. There used to be great flocks of ostriches in Africa and Asia. They got along well enough until there was a demand for the soft, elegant looking ostrich plumes. Now they are scarce in their native countries. However, ostrich farms have been successful in South Africa, Algeria and Argentina as well as in the United States.

FOR YOU TO DO: If something goes wrong, don't go running in circles like an ostrich?

Diane Froggatt of Gale, Ill., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review, and you may also win a set.

Armed Robber Sought In Columbus Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police searched today for an armed robber who staged a daring $1,700 holdup at the downtown Deshler-Hilton Hotel. The robber approached cashier Marilyn Moore Wednesday night and demanded at gunpoint that she hand over all her bills, officers said. After she complied, he then ordered her into a rear room and fled from the hotel. The Old Testament of the Bible is longer than the New Testament.
